Before personal information is collected directly from its stakeholders, UHF will identify the purpose(s) for which the information is collected. UHF will not use or disclose personal information for any new use beyond that for which it was originally collected without first obtaining consent, except as required by law.

Consent may be withdrawn at any time with reasonable notice to UHF. Personal information that is considered by law to be in the public domain may be used without consent. The UHF issues receipts for gifts of $25 or more, or upon request. Cash donations are verified by UHF staff before a tax receipt is issued. If there is a discrepancy between a stated cash donation and the verified amount, the tax receipt will be issued using the UHF verified amount.
